. . . Legally refuse to treat you or any member of your family at any time or defer examination of the patient to a later time or date. This means, in the event you or someone in your family becomes critically ill, and only one doctor can be reached – he may refuse to treat the patient and not be held responsible in the event of death or disability. This may and has occurred in the past before the patient could be transported to elsewhere to see another doctor. He might be responsible morally, but is not responsible legally in the judgement of the Commonwealth Attorney with whom I discussed this topic.

Most doctors are fine men who would not turn you away when your need is apparent, but some do refuse to examine patients or defer examination to more "convenient hours" for themselves later in the day, and a patient who has not received at least a quick visual examination can hardly be judged by the doctor to be in sufficiently good condition to "last" three or four more hours to present himself for examination.

I feel the public is entitled to the services of a doctor 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. There should be no time day or night when an "on duty" doctor in any community cannot be contacted personally by telephone. Cursory examinations should be made by any doctor before defering detailed examination to a later time or date. We should have a law passed by the state legislature requiring all doctors in the state of Virginia to treat any emergency case, possibly refunding state money to them in the event that it is determined the patient cannot pay. I don't believe doctors should work for nothing. I just believe they should all be required to treat the sick. We need no such law to protect us from the highly dedicated doctor and the public salutes them for their efforts.

December 5,

Dear Santa,
On Christmas, please bring me a doll, easy bake mixes, dishes, stuffed animal, rings 'n things, and a pogo pony.
Thank you.
Milk and cookies will be on the table for you.

Janis

Dear Santa Claus:
All I want for Christmas is French Fries and Pepsi Cola and Baby Thumbelina (and that's all she wants.)

Roxanne Marie Martin (3 1/2)
Spout Spring, Virginia

Dear Santa
I am sorry I waited so long to write. I hope you can still bring me and my brother, David, some of the things we want. I am writing for him too. I want a set of walkie talkies, a race car set, a dart game, a snooping pup, a set of drums, if you have any left, and most of all a big Bible.
David wants a bike with out training wheels, a holster set, a rifle, a pair of cowboy boots. We have been right good boys this year.

DICKERSON'S 4–H

The 4-H Club met Nov. 11, 1969 in Miss Erna Dickerson's class at Appomattox Elementary School. The president, Robert Dyess, brought the meeting to order. Then the secretary read the minutes. The song leaders, Brenda Bowling and John Rothgeb, led us in song. We sang "The Twelve Days of Christmas". Then we talked about "Exploring Personal Development" and "What did 4-H Mean?". We said, "It meant health, head, heart, hand. We said the 4-H pledge and the meeting was adjourned.

THE UNEXPECTED BIRTH

Luke 2:7

Two weeks ago our message was entitled the "Unusual Birth." Last week we studied about the "Unwanted Birth". This week we will study the "Unexpected Birth" of Christ. The fact that a birth of Christ was unexpected should not have been so because the Bible is full of promises about His birth. First of all the birth of Christ was promised by the Father to Satan (Genesis 3:15) "And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed, it (He) shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel." Then it was provided by God the Father (Galations 4:4) "But when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth His Son, made of a woman, made under the law." Then it was promised to Abraham (Gen. 22:8, 22:13; John 1: 29). His birth was promised to Israel (Isaiah 7:14; Matthew 1: 18-25 (18). His birth was promised to Bethlehem (Micah 5: 2) (710 B. C.) See (Matt. 2:1-11; Luke 2:4-17) Then His birth was pronounced by the angels ahead of time. It was announced to Mary (Luke 1:28-33). To Joseph (Matthew 1:20-21). The shepherds (Luke 2:8-13 (11)). So the birth of Christ was unexpected, but it should not have been because there were many prophecies and many promiser in the Old Testament that Jesus Christ would be born at a specific time, in a specific place, in a specific manner, and in a specfic way. Yes, the Lord's birth was unexpected; but it isn't too late to welcome Him into your heart this year. He was born to die (John 3:17), He was born of a "Super - natural" birth (Matt. 1:18,20). He was born as the "Sovereign King" (Matt. 2:2). He was born as "The Saviour of lost men" (Matt. 1:21). He was born as a "Substitute for His sheep" (John 10:11).

Do you know Christ as your Saviour and Lord? Then trust Him today. Next week, the "Undeserved Birth".

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE FANTASTIC CELEBRATION

Lesson for December 21, 1969

Background Scripture: Matt. 1.
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 52: 7-10.

It was the most lavish birthday party anyone had ever seen or imagined. The banquet hall had never been more gayly or colorfully decorated. Waiters were hurrying back and forth between the kitchen and the long tables, bringing a seemingly endless procession of heaping platters of exotic foods.

The conversation at the tables was gay and punctuated with hearty laughter. Adding to this hubub were the strains of several orchestras and choruses performing in various parts of the vast hall.

"Happy Birthday"

While merry people stuffed themselves with the rich food, entertainers passed among the tables performing songs, dances, stunts, and tricks to an audience that gave only half its attention at best. No one seemed to mind the confusion, however, and it grew as the evening wore on.

Finally, there was an earsplitting blast of trumpets and people turned expectantly, only to listen to the popular master of ceremonies, "Ladies and gentlemen," he began in a loud voice that resounded through the great hall, "let us all join in singing 'Happy Birthday.'"

Hundreds of voices massed together with the combined orchestras and filled the hall with Happy birthday to you.
Happy birthday to you.
Happy birthday, dear . . .
(There was an inaudible mumble at the place where the name should have been, but everyone recovered and finished.)
Happy Birthday to you!
A great ovation followed the song.

The Guest of Honor

The voice of the master of ceremonies was heard again; "Ladies and gentlemen, let us remain standing as our guest of honor comes forward and with his golden knife cuts his birthday cake." The trumpets blare once again as the doors of the kitchen swing open and a huge wheeled table is pushed to the center of the room. On it, towering high above the waiters, was the largest birthday cake ever baked. Tier upon tier of creamy icing reached high into the air.

There was a hushed confusion at the head table, growing louder and more confused as the long minutes ticked by. People began to shift from one foot to another, wondering what the problem was.

Then there was an embarassed announcement from the head table. Red-faced, the master of ceremonies turned to the audience and said, haltingly: "Ladies and gentlemen . . . uh . . . we are having difficulty in locating the . . . uh . . . guest of honor." Then, as if he were calling a child playing hide-and-seek: "Will the guest of honor please step forward and cut the cake!" It was not a question, but a plea. An expectant hush settled over the hall . . . but no one stepped forward.

The Uninvited Guest

Smiling a forced smile that kept sliding off his face, he consulted an officious-looking man at his side. He, in turn, consulted someone else. Soon the whole hall was buzzing with incredulous voices, all confessing: "THERE IS NO GUEST! He WASN'T INVITED!"

Fantastic! Of course, the fantastic thing about Christmas is that God invites to salvation, not the righteous (based on outline by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. Released by Religious News Service.)

Knoll Crest Sells Herefords

Knoll Crest Farm, of Red House, Va., recently completed the sale of registered Polled Herefords to:

Claude A. Bennett, Concord; W. B. Bass, Gladys; Bernon J. Atkins, Chatham; Bernard and Tom Coleman, Nathalie; Charles Alexander 4th, Fork Union; William N. Allen, Farmville; D. B. Maddox, Gladys; R. S. Parrott, Sandardsville; Bundoran Farm, North Garde; J. M. Davis, Morehead City, N. C.; David W. Rash, Blackstone, J. W. Ferguson, Cullen; and Allen G. Jones, Red House, Va.

Polled Herefords are naturally hornless and are the only major breed of livestock to originate in the U.S., starting with 11 head in 1901. Some 3-million Polled Herefords have been registered in the U.S. since 1901, one-third of the total in the past 5 years.

American Polled Herefords have been exported to all the beef producing countries of the world. Recent exportations of 2,000 Polled Herefords by jet airplane to Chile in Janaury, 1969, and a 3,500 - head shipment of Polled Herefords by sea to Chile in February, 1968, are the largest exportations of American beef cattle in history.

CANAAN BAPTIST

"She will bear a son, and you shall call his name Jesus, for he will save his people from their sins," Matt. 1:21.

Regular preaching service was heard sunday morning at 11:30 a.m. at Canaan with Rev. J.D. Scruggs, preaching. Everyone present enjoyed the service.

Rev. B. T. Christian and Mt. Airy Junior Choir were the guests at Canaan Sunday night at 7:30 p.m. Everyone enjoyed the service.

Mrs. Mary C. Hudson is still on the sick list. We hope for her a speedy recovery.

Rev. James Miller and his wife visited Mrs. Mary C. Hudson Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Elizabeth Scott and her daughter, Miss Joyce Scott also visited Mrs. Mary C. Hudson Sunday afternoon.

A Christmas program will be held at Canaan the third Sunday at 6 p.m. The public is invited.
